

Big D And The Kids Table, Cutshow

Most adults are all the mean, stupid, annoying kids, you know, just older... and now in charge!

You had a choice of life but you decided to give in Exactly what you were supposed to be you perfected so you could win
Now your life's a textbook a figure a paragraph
Striving to be the best you mock the ones who come in last
(You always) Think yourself up your always on patrol
(You always) Think yourself up your best friend's named Control
(Still laughing) You said you didn't say much
(Still laughing) You said I think you're out of touch

[Prechorus]
It's right it's wrong
Someone's always telling me

[Chorus]
Caught up in a social cutshow
Hit the lights so I can see
Caught up in what a life
My stages my stages are my steps
Open to understanding well if of nothing else

(It's better) To sit half as long if it's on something that you made
(It's better) To know yourself self-memory often fades
Too many doubts too many worries in your head
Not ready to solve them you're hanging by a thread
(Still laughing) You said you didn't say much
(Still laughing) You said I think you're out of touch

[Prechorus]

[Chorus]

[Prechorus]

Keep talking We don't listen no we don't care
Your story's fading your story's fading
It's too bad you're caught up it's too bad you're in Celebrate your new life in the social class you're in
And now you got new friends to follow yeah
And now you got better things to do yeah
You better think about who you're gonna cut
Better think about who you're gonna cut down this time

You're cool and everybody knows
You're cool and it shows
