

Big D And The Kids Table, The One

I know you wanna love her for the rest of your life
But man
This woman her intentions ain't right
Tell me brother, am I right?
You gotta wake up

I know
I know
That I every time I speak she rolls her eyes
And shakes her says "Baby, know one'll know you said,"
I know
I know
That I should let you live and love yourself
But it is hard when your laughter is now dead

So if you think your days are dark you better wait
And if you think your smile has faded away
And if you're sick of crying then you better wait
Wait
Wait
Wait
Wait
No need to hurry now

I know you wanna love her for the rest of your life
But man
This woman her intentions ain't right
Tell me brother, am I right?
That woman is trouble
You gotta wake up

I know you wanna love her for the rest of your life
But man
When she gets on you it's such a bad sight
Tell me brother, am I right?
You gotta wake up

But what if I lost?
And what if I can't find?
A girl to take care of?
A girl to be just mine?
What if I lost?
And what if I can't find?
A girl to take care of?
A girl to be just mine?

Well if you keep that smile then you'll find a way
And if you keep your sun out then you'll find a way
And if you keep the pressure down you'll find a way
Way
Way
Way
Way
Until you're ready now

I know you wanna love her for the rest of your life
But man
This woman her intentions ain't right
Tell me brother, am I right?
That woman is trouble
You gotta wake up

I know you wanna love her for the rest of your life
But man

Tell me brother, am I right?
