

Big Daddy Weave, Without You

Would we hear the sound
Of breathing in the dark
Where would be lifes spark
Without You
Would the birds ever sing
Would the wind move through the trees
Could I touch the grass so green
Under this big sky be so blue
Without You

And the sun doesnt shine
And my world stops spinnin round
Without You
Tell me where else could I ever find
The peace that floods this heart of mine
Without You

Who could fill, the emptiness inside
Who would ease the pain, in my broken heart
Who would come in and abide
Promise never to depart
Without You

I cant live without You
I dont want to try to Live one more moment without You
