Big Head Todd And The Monsters, Magdelina

Awaiting my treasure drifting ashore When from the galleys we're set free And I'll never give you more Than the time that we save Magdelina I forgave And I will feel everything

There are bridges burning here and we have to keep below
Lest the guns should overtake us and let out the final blow
A deserter I'll be hung, though ever battle I had won And I won't feel anything

Hey Magdelina, there is only now to lay aside All the bad dreams of your past have been lost in the fire Remember, soon I'll be back to bathe in your smile And touch a long time indeed
