

Big Sugar, Heart Refuse To Pound

(G. Johnson/P. Ballantyne)

As I lay awake I find
You're resting on my mind
And running through my head
While I'm laying up in my bed
I don't sleep no more
I wonder what I'm living for

How long 'til I have -
How long 'til I have you?

If I thought you felt the same
I would walk until I was lame
Across four thousand miles
Just to hold you for a while

How long 'til I have -
How long 'til I have you?

When my heart refuse to pound
And they lay my body down
I'll be lying there alone
And you'll be staring at my stone
But if you hear me call your name
I'll be with you just the same

How long 'til I have -
How long 'til I have you?
