

Big Sugar, I Want You Now

Half-awake in the morning
I want you now
This feeling greets me without warning
I want you now
Sunlight dancing on my curtain
I want you now
My state of mind remains uncertain
But I want you now

Lying in this bed for hours
But I ain't sick don't send me flowers
You can heal me with your powers
And I want you now

Some misdeed or some infraction
But I want you now
I'll bear the burden of my actions
Cause I want you now
Don't lose the feel of understanding
I've been a fool in all my glory
That's why I called to say I'm sorry
And I want you now

Ohh say guitar, say it one time for me
Mmhmm

Even the faithful can falter
But I want you now
That's why I'm kneeling at your alter
Cause I want you now
Don't lose the feel of understanding
Honey I don't see no cause for warning
I've been a fool in all my glory
That's why I've called to say I'm sorry
And I want you now
I want you now
I want you now
I want you now
