

Bijou Phillips, I Am A Mountain

Doesn't speak too highly of me
Now I leave with few regrets
Well I'm not supposed to be Leaving, trying, deceiving and lying

Now I should've stopped this time
To decide what was mine
I'm too blind but I saw this through
Didn't I, wouldn't you

And now that my ship came in
You thought you'd jump up on it
Am I supposed to let you in
Well, baby let's get honest
You're lying, deceiving, trying
Now you're leaving

Now I should have stopped this time
To decide what was mine
I'm too blind but I saw this through
Didn't I, wouldn't you

Pity I did not forget
Don't you know I meant to
I know it satisfies you when
But I'll be back to get you
I'll be lying, trying, deceiving, you'll be pleading
I'll been lying, trying, deceiving
You're pleading

Doesn't speak too highly of me
Now I leave with few regrets, now I
I should have stopped this time
To decide what was mine
I'm too blind but I saw this through
Didn't I, wouldn't you

Now I should have stopped this time
To decide what was mine
Too blind but I saw this through
Didn't I, wouldn't you
