

Bill Anderson, I Don't Want It

(Jerry Chesnut)

The only thing I know to say
If love can leave me feeling this way
I don't want it I don't need it never again
If this is what love's all about
I'm so much better off without it
I don't want it, I don't need it, not again.

If love's a thing we only borrow
Here today and gone tomorrow
I don't want it, I don't need it never again
If love can do this to someone
If this is the thanks for all I've done
Well, I don't want it, I don't need it, not again.

If you came back again
Why, I don't even know if I would want you
Then it all depends on how I feel
If I can just get over you I think too much of me
To ever take the chance on lovin' you again
Nobody knows what I go through
That's what I get for lovin' you
And I don't want it, I don't need it, never again...
