

Bill Anderson, I'm Just Gone

(Buzz Rabin)

I could count the miles between us now and say
I'm that much further from you now than I was yesterday
But even after all the roads I've traveled on
We're as close as we were then I'm just gone.

Standing in the wind comparing then to now
And it seems to me I stand a little taller somehow
Though I'm in Portland Maine and you're in San Antone
We're as close as we were then I'm just gone.

It's snowing here where I am today
And it's freezing everything
But after doing time with you, ah honey
This almost feels like spring.

Though I'm in Portland Maine
And you're in San Antone
We're as close as we were then
I'm just gone.

We're as close as we've ever been
I'm just gone...
