

Bill Anderson, Look How I Love You

(James Gilbreath)

Love you, look how I love you
Look how I love you, see it shining in my eyes
Little drops of love falling from my eyes
Tell an old familiar story, you're telling me goodbye.

And I still love you, look how I love you
Look how I love you, see it falling from my eyes
Won't you ever turn your head, take one last look as you leave
Give you something to remember in your victory over me.

And I still love you, look how I love you
Look how I love you see it falling from my eyes.

--- Instrumental ---

I never was a lover like others you have known
But I'll be waiting for you when the great ones have all gone
Because I love you, yes, I still love you
Look how I love you, see it falling from my eyes. mhm mhm...
