

Bill Anderson, You Can Change My World

(Ben Peters)

I can see the dark clouds over head
Now I see raindrops falling from the sky
Seems every living thing is dead now
Ever since the day you said goodbye.

I can hear the winter winds a blowing
They chill my body to the bone
I can feel my life's slowly going
Livin' in a cold world all alone.

But baby, you can change my world
By changing your mind
Drive away the clouds
So the sun can shine.

You can change it all by saying
You're coming back and staying
You can change my world
By changing your mind.

--- Instrumental ---

Mine is a world of desolation
Everything I cared about is gone
Only you can change the situation
And all you got to do is come back home.

Oh baby, you can change my world
By changing your mind
Drive away the clouds
So the sun can shine.

Oh baby, you can change it all by saying
You're coming back and staying
You can change my world
By changing your mind...
