

Bill Anderson, You're Still the Only One I'll Ever L

Time has passed and things have changed you've gone your way I've gone mine
On the surface it's all over but beneath the surface you're still on my mind
Cause you're still the only one I'll ever love forget the hours forget the miles
Your lips are still the lips I'm dreaming of and you're still the only one I'll ever love [steel]

All my thoughts of you are good ones happy hours that just flew by
You were always someone special and you'll be my someone special till I die
And you're still the only one I'll ever love treasured mem'ries of treasured times
Your lips are still the lips I'm dreaming of and you're still the only one I'll ever love
