

Bill Withers, Dreams

Staring at shadows
Calling them faces
Characters in the stories in your mind
They only live in your imagination
And dreams, I say dreams
Are good as the real thing sometimes

Take a look at your hero
Try changing places
You might discover that you're two of a kind
Think of your hoss coming in at the races
And dreams I say dreams
Are as good as the real thing sometimes