

Billie Holiday, HELLO, MY DARLING

Frank Loesser / Frederick Hollander

I'll forget your tender kiss

I'll be brave after this kiss

I'll say "Hello my darling"

If we should meet again

You'll forbid the tears to slip

You'll behave, bite your lip

And say "Hello my darling"

If we should meet again

If we do meet again

Our moments can't be sweet again

Oh my love, go my love

Though it's a bitter pill, I know my love

Please remember not to sigh

Over this last goodbye

Just say "Hello my darling"

If we should meet again
