

Billie Jo Spears, Trying To See

Pardon me if I seem to stare
But there's just something about you hidden somewhere
Please forgive me if I observe everything you do
Cause I'm just trying to see what I ever saw in you

Did you hold it in the palm of your hand
Cause that's where you had me at your command
Or did I see it in those eyes I used to look into
I'm just trying to see what I ever saw in you

How could I forget anything that big
Big enough to make me let you make a fool of me
That way that you did
So just let me look it over another time or two
I'm just trying to see what I ever saw in you
I'm just trying to see what I ever saw in you
