

Billie Myers, Where Romeo Never Dies

Romeo never dies love letters from shakespeare, handwritten just last year the meanings gone, but the point's still clear well, im unfashionably tongue-tied, on a tightrope of fine line be careful,read the warning signs im gonna make you jealous, im gonna make you nervous im gonna make you wish you'd never started this i'm gonna make you anxious, oh so anxious you'll be safely insecure with me where Romeo never dies, and Juliet - she never cries when you think its all over, i'll look with a smile cos Romeo never dies, Romeo never dies you're regrettably inclined to my dangerously safe side sometimes i walk where the sun dont shine but if something is certain, then the waiting is no fun so dont melt the ice I'm walking on im gonna make you jealous, i'm gonna make you nervous
where Romeo never dies, and Juliet never cries just when you think its over, i'll lookup with a smile
'cos Romeo never dies, Romeo never dies oh no, Romeo never, never, never, never lies, perfectly floored by you im gonna make you jealous, Im gona me you nervous im goname you wish you never started this where Romeo never dies, and Juliet - she never cries (oh no) when you think it's over, I'll look up with a smile 'cos Romeo never dies, Romeo never dies (oh no) Romeo never cries, not even here satisfaction, thats the death of desire satisfaction, thats the death of desire I'm jealous, I'm nervous, it's OK sometimes being bad feels good satisfaction, satisfaction, satisfaction is the death of desire
