Billy Joel, Let Your Heart Show You The Way

Have you ever had that drean? Where you're all alone in the dark and so afraid. And then an angel comes to you and says Let your heart show you the way. It'll lead you to glory every single day, Don't stop to wonder why. Get up and wipe your eyes. I promise, we'll get through this You may not have the best toys You may not have the coolest clothes But deep down you know, There are people far worse off And If we all helped the world It would be a better place For all of us...For all of us= Let your heart show you the way. It'll lead you to glory every single day, Don't stop to wonder why. Get up and wipe your eyes. I promise, we'll get through this(reapete)
