

Billy Joel, These Rhinestone Days

Now we live our lives so nonchalant
We spend our time so bon vivant
Our Spanish nights so well arranged
Those tasteful words that we exchanged
We know it's all a passing phase

We light our lamps for atmosphere
And hang our hopes on chandeliers
I don't know why we even care
We try and try and get nowhere
We'll change our minds, we changed our ways
These Rhinestone Days

So go our lives so nonchalant
We spend our time so bon vivant
I don't know why we even care
We try and try and get nowhere
We'll change our minds, we changed our ways
These Rhinestone Days
