

Billy No Mates, What's Wrong With That

I remember a time of no trainers or texting remote controllers no home computers no video games no credit cards no Internet link no mobile phones but it seems to me no matter how we're advancing the human brain keeps it's own pace some things just can't be archived you have to say it all again and again respect tolerance peace love and understanding what's wrong with that?

buy skunk, buy crack buy microwaves plastic tits, Brazilian shaves G.M. crops obsession with brands go and pop your nuggets at a drive through bank it's a shame to me to see some people obsessed forgetting about the better side of life go hunt for money just as long as you like but where are you going to buy peace of mind
