

Billy Ray Cyrus, Enough Is Enough

(Billy Ray Cyrus/Don Von Tress/Keith Hinton)

Ain't it sad Johnny had another accident
Down some steps and landed on a lit cigarette
Must have made daddy madder than he thought he had
So his little mind becomes a bomb that ain't exploded yet
Said he talks to angels in these moments of pain
One day they'll point their pearly wings and say
That enough is enough
Enough tears have been shed
Enough hurt has been hidden
Enough blood has been bled
I said enough is enough
Let it rain love and trust
Til the steel fist of rage
Has fallen into rust
Enough is enough
In the board room of a squirrely third world government
Hammerin' tunes there on the bones of the innocent
Greedy little minds sit tradin' guns and bad medicine
Could it be it's time for Brother Abel to raise some cain
If we hold our dreams pressed in the palm of our hands
There'll come a day when we all will stand
And say
That enough is enough
Enough tears have been shed
Enough hurt has been hidden
Enough blood has been bled
I said enough is enough
Let it rain love and trust
Til the steel fist of rage
Has fallen into rust
Enough is enough
You know
That enough is enough
Enough tears have been shed
Enough hurt has been hidden
Enough blood has been bled
I said enough is enough
Let it rain love and trust
Til the steel fist of rage
Has fallen into rust
Enough is enough
I said
That enough is enough
Enough tears have been shed
Enough hurt has been hidden
Enough blood has been bled
I said enough is enough
Let it rain love and trust
Til the steel fist of rage
Has fallen into rust
Enough is enough
You know enough is enough
I said enough is enough
You know enough is enough
Enough is enough