

Billy Ray Cyrus, Lately (ft. Fred Durst)

I wish I was a little more solid
A little more grounded
Maybe just a little more

I wish i was a little less angry
A little less selfish
Maybe just a little less

Lately I feel crashing
I feel like the whole world is coming to an end
Lately I feel like nothing really matters
I, I wanna feel good again

I wish I was a little more patient
A little more forgiving
Maybe just a little more

I wish I was a little less crazy
A little less out there
Maybe just a little less

Lately I feel like crashing
I feel like the whole world is coming to an end
Lately I feel like nothing really matters
I, I wanna feel good again
I wanna feel good again

Lately I feel like crashing
I feel like I hate rappin
I feel like the worlds gonna end
And again situations keep going tragic
I feel like the feats gonna happen
In jail no bail we're packin
Everday just keeps on lastin
I just wanna keep gettin past it
I wanna waste away
I wanna be left alone in hell
No one gave a damn when I was sittin in my cell
So when we never know the fear will be close to the edge and the fear of that I'm about to break
And I can't take the fact that lately I pay for my actions greatly

Lately I feel like crashing
I feel like the whole world is coming to an end
Lately I feel like nothing really matters
I wanna feel good again
I wanna feel good again

I wish I was a little more solid
A little more grounded
Maybe just a little more
