

Billy Ray Cyrus, Should I Stay

(Billy Ray Cyrus)

I can feel your teardrops on my shoulder
I don't know what to say or what to do
You're the one who told me it was over
You said this love affair was all but through
Well I know that there's two sides
To every story
And that's what's going on inside my soul
'Cause my heart is saying
"Leave and you'll be sorry"
But my mind is saying it's time for me to go
And my heart says I should stay
But my mind says I should go
Should we end our love today?
Or should we let it grow?
And my heart says I should stay
But my mind says I should go
Tell me if you love me, let me know
Tell me, Should I Stay or Should I Go?
To think of me without you, I'm so lonely
'Cause you're the one
Who helped me for so long
All the nights we'd lay to love each other
With the radio playing our favorite song
And I remember when you told me
You first loved me
With teardrops in my eyes I said
"I love you too"
And my heart still feels the same
And will forever
But my mind is tellin' me
That we're all through
Should I Stay or Should I Go?
Tell me please
I need to know
