

Billy Swan, (You Just) Woman Handled My Mind

When I first saw you I didn't see much there
Then you flashed your eyes and I became aware
So when you walked away I followed behind
You just woman handled my mind
I used to make the rounds every night
Told everyone I'd never have a wife
Then you come along and in the mean time
You just woman handled my mind
It knocks me out the way you knock me out
When you really want to
But sometimes you hurt me you don't know it
See, the things you don't know you do
See sometimes you make me feel like hittin' the wall
But then you kiss me and I'm not mad at all
Sometimes it hurts, sometimes it's fine
When you woman handle my mind

It knocks me out the way you knock me out
When you really want to
But sometimes you hurt me you don't know it
See, the things you don't know you do
Sometimes you make me feel like hittin' the wall
But then you kiss me and I'm not mad at all
Sometimes it hurts, sometimes it's fine
When you woman handle my mind
Sometimes it hurts, sometimes it's fine
When you woman handle my mind
Woman handle my mind
Woman handle my mind
Woman handle my mind
Woman handle my mind
