

Billy Walker, If It Pleases You

If it pleases you to break my heart if it pleases you let the heartache start
I love you so much I gladly go through a hundred broken hearts if it pleases you
Though anyway you want me I want to be that way
Any price to hold you won't be too big to pay
If it pleases you to see me cry if it pleases you then I'm gonna cry
I'll do anything to hang on to you I'll cry my life away if it pleases you

If it pleases you to break my heart
And if it pleases you well let those old heartaches start
I love you so much I gladly go through a hundred broken hearts if it pleases you
