

Billy Walker, It's Your Fault I'm Cheating

You're trying to make me feel guilty and ashamed
But I just can't baby for I'm not to blame
You didn't want me a man knows the signs
It's your fault I'm cheating but the pleasure's all mine
She holds me and wants me like you never would
I won't say I love her but God knows I could
So don't blame me for finding someone warm and kind
It's your fault I'm cheating but the pleasure's all mine
[steel]
Fate has a plan for us all I suppose one last verse has the thorns to get to the rose
I know our love's over but I really don't mind
It's your fault I'm cheating but the pleasure's all mine
She holds me and wants me...
Yes it's your fault I'm cheating but the pleasure's all mine
