

Biohazard, Heads Kicked In

The cold winds of war, numb the nations soul
They taste the bitter fear as a grim future appears

Criminal leaders building hate
Under siege the world segregates
The day has come, the end is at hand
The earth a corpse, a barren waste land
Cower in fear, humanity prays
Blood upon, our final days

No god can grant any salvation
There's no escaping incineration

Bound and tortured, heads kicked in Children slaughtered, heads kicked in Nations ruptured, heads kicked in Lives aborted, heads kicked in

In this world terror reigns supreme
The earth a carcass with its bones picked clean
Impending doom, too little too late
Clenched inside the fist of fate
With savage bloodlust, we feed on the kill
Self destruction, our only true skill
Will our children ever get a clean slate
Barbaric society, united in hate

The charred remains of war machines
The lifeless twisted bodies
Blind eyes that peer from their heads
The crowded carriages of the dead
