

Bipolar, As I Bleed

You dont play the game you cant make the rules
While you sit and think of which lies to choose
Again you push me as Im falling

You say youve changed your ways but I fail to see
When its the same old shit that youre doing to me
You hold me down as I am drowning

And just when I've begun
To crawl out from this hole
The walls start caving

I cant believe the things that you say
Your words are choking me
I cant believe your nerve as youre leaving me
Watching me as I bleed

And here it comes again now let the games begin
You give a smile, "hello" but its all pretend
You always pinch me when Im dreaming

Youll give a chance to all that try except for me
And as I close my eyes I can finally see
Youll never stop til I lay dying

And just when I've begun
To crawl out from this hole
The walls start crumbling
