Birdy, Evergreen

Nobody knows my love
Nobody knows my love
In the gods, we hide away
Nobody ever looks up
Like the heavy summer heats
I don't see past my love
He wakes me quietly
With a kiss that lingers like evergreen
We drift so sweet
With is eyes, he speaks to me silently

Nobody knows my love Nobody knows but us There's a world out there The woulld keep us apart Let's stay here where We're safe in te dark Nobody knows my love For how long we've been this was And ever id it rains My love, there'll be hurricanes
