

Birdy, Winter

It's so cold, baby it's dark outside
Winter comes creeping in through the night
And it's hard when I just want to hold you tight
Breaks my heart but nothing can break this ice

Hold on, hold on, Baby just be strong

And I will be honest and let you go
This is the reason and you should know
Through all that you promise I can see
None of your dreams ever have time for me
So this is the reason I let you go
I will be honest and you should know
Through all that you promise, I can see
None of your dreams ever have time for me

And it's so quiet, baby it's hard to breathe
Black as ink, the silence is deafening
And it's so hard to look into distant eyes
And feel your heart slowly tie away from mine

So long, so long, baby you're long gone

And I will be honest and let you go
This is the reason and you should know
Through all that you promise I can see
None of your dreams ever have time for me
So this is the reason I let you go
I will be honest and you should know
Through all that you promise, I can see
None of your dreams ever have time for me

None of your dreams
Take me with you
None of your dreams
Let me love you
None of your dreams
Take me with you
Take me with you

None of your dreams
Take me with you
None of your dreams
Let me love you
None of your dreams
Take me with you
Take me with you

None of your dreams
Take me with you
None of your dreams
Let me love you
None of your dreams
Take me with you
Take me with you

None of your dreams
Take me with you
None of your dreams
Let me love you
None of your dreams
Take me with you
Take me with you

None of your dreams
Take me with you
None of your dreams
Let me love you
None of your dreams
Take me with you
Take me with you

None of your dreams
Take me with you
