

Birgit, What's You Age?

What's your age
Says the man in the suit
Thinking he knows all
Believes he's cool
That's what he thinks
A girl my age
Doesn't understand the world
At least that's what he thinks
I think
Ohoh i
I need to break free
From all of these thoughts inside
I have to stop the worries in my head
Leave my doubts all unsaid
And be who i want to be
No need to be insecure no more
I just gotta walk through that door
And wonder of free to be me
She's so vain
Is what she whispers to her friend
When i pass her sitting at the bar
Must think she's all that Cause she's a little famous
Probably thinks she's hot
She tells her friend
I think
Ohoh i
I need to break free
From all of these thoughts inside
I have to stop the worries in my head
Leave my doubts all unsaid
And be who i want to be
No need to be insecure no more
I just gotta walk through that door
And wonder of free to be me
Close my eys
And hear those buzzing whispers surrounding
Judging me
Talking about me
I wanna be
Totally free
Free of guessing what they said
Or what they might think about me
