

Black, Blue Sky

You play to win
No looking backwards
Just throw the switch and step back
Looking like you're innocent
Do I have to let you know
That the game begins with you
When I know that somewhere
There is a blue sky for us
On the outside from the outside looking in
You know where it ends but now how to begin
It's like you're in a dream
Do I have to let you know
That the game began with you
Well I know that somewhere
There is a blue sky for us?
I know that somewhere
There is a blue sky for us
We're coming through
We fill the airwaves
Just throw the switch and step back
Looking like you're innocent
Do I have to let you know
The game begins with you
When I know that somewhere
There is a blue sky for us
Somewhere
There is a blue sky for us
I know that somewhere
There is a blue sky for us
Somewhere there is a blue sky for us
Somewhere there is a blue sky for us
Somewhere there is a blue sky
For us
