

Black Heaven, Nightfall

Where are you my love, I'm fearing the days
Useless the words I could say
The rays of the sun are leaving my soul
Maybe it is time to go

I try to live in different ways
And defeat the pain in my face
Time goes by and there is no chance of a second romance

Moments of sadness inspire my soul
When night falls, when night falls

And every thought of hope was in vain
And even I lost my name
Oh and when this cruel world is falling apart
I keep the death in my heart

Where are you my love, I'm counting my days
And I have nothing to say
And the only place where I can go
Is where the red roses grow
