

Black Label Society, Overlord

The undying embrace of chaos and war
The oppressed lie writhing down on the floor
This Babylon of fear that you shall know
To rule and suppress, destroy and overthrow
Kings of this world
The servants shall serve
Slaves never free
Kings of this world all that's to be
All that you hear and all that you see
I am your overlord
Everything above and below
I am your overlord
The exodus of your will
And all that you'll ever know
This brotherhood of snakes shall rule and control
The corruption of man, his fate, and his soul
Kings of this world
The servants shall serve
Slaves never free
Kings of this world all that's to be
All that you hear and all that you see
I am your overlord
I am your overlord
The exodus of your will
And all that you'll ever know
This flame of black which burns so bright
For the slaves shall never see
The apocalyptic end of the past
That the new world shall forever be
The great conspiracy
The betrayal of God
The fires of revolution
Aimed at the heavens above
Kings of this world
The servants shall serve
Slaves never free
Kings of this world all that's to be
All that you hear and all that you see
I am your overlord
I am your overlord
The exodus of your will
And all that you'll ever know
I am your overlord
I am your overlord
