Black Label Society, Overlord

The undying embrace of chaos and war

The oppressed lie writhing down on the floor

This Babylon of fear that you shall know

To rule and suppress, destroy and overthrow

Kings of this world

The servants shall serve

Slaves never free

Kings of this world all that's to be

All that you hear and all that you see

I am your overlord

Everything above and below

I am your overlord

The exodus of your will

And all that you'll ever know

This brotherhood of snakes shall rule and control

The corruption of man, his fate, and his soul

Kings of this world

The servants shall serve

Slaves never free

Kings of this world all that's to be

All that you hear and all that you see

I am your overlord

I am your overlord

The exodus of your will

And all that you'll ever know

This flame of black which burns so bright

For the slaves shall never see

The apocalyptic end of the past

That the new world shall forever be

The great conspiracy

The betrayal of God

The fires of revolution

Aimed at the heavens above

Kings of this world

The servants shall serve

Slaves never free

Kings of this world all that's to be

All that you hear and all that you see

I am your overlord

I am your overlord

The exodus of your will

And all that you'll ever know

I am your overlord

I am your overlord

The exodus of your will
