Black, Let's talk about me

Little queen beware, fashion tempers flare, and they light up with a brilliant glare page after page, after page, after page, after page.

A hollow vase only costs ten pounds but an empty vessel makes the loudest sound, and you have to get heard in this loudest of townsor go under.

We don't care if you can't pay,

we don't care what you've got to say,

we don't hear when you cry out-

Our smiles are hollowed out.

Let's talk about me.

(Vamos a hablar de ti)

Let's talk about me.

(Vamos a hablar de ti)

The people look like ghouls in the neon light, get the big city blues every single night.

World gone crazy? It was never sane- not now,

Bars full of couples not talking to each other, seeking solitude in the company of others.

"We're not in love- we just can't resist each other at playtime.

We don't care if you can't pay,

we don't care what you've got to say,

we don't hear when you cry out-

Our smiles are hollowed out.

Let's talk about me.

(Vamos a hablar de mi)

Let's talk about me.

(Vamos a hablar de ti)

Let's talk about me.

(Vamos a hablar, hablar, hablar)

Let's talk about me.

(solo)

We don't care if you can't pay,

we don't care what you've got to say,

we don't hear when you cry out-

Our smiles are hollowed out.

Let's talk about me.

Let's talk about me.

Oh, let's talk about me, me, me, me, me.

Oh (Vamos a hablar de mi)

Let's talk about me.

(Vamos a hablar, hablar

Vamos a hablar de mi

Vamos a hablar, hablar, hablar

Vamos a hablar de mi

Vamos a hablar de mi)
