

Black River, Silence

I choose my own mysterious world where beauty lies in every word When life is full of cruelty the darkness is my precious poetry

Silence is my inner world the shelter to be strong to get rid of all the pain
(and) to know where I belong

I'm searching for the unknown side in every dream, in gloomy nights I save my mind from loneliness and follow the voice of my subconsciousness