

BLACK STAR RIDERS, Catch Yourself On

Where do you think you're going
Where do you think you've been
Your moral compass is so broken
You can't find anything

So catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
It's too late to delete it
Everybody's seen it
Admit that you're wrong
And catch yourself on

Why can't you make a decision
If you're staying or leaving
Time is of the essence
So hurry up while I'm still breathing

Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
It's too late to delete it
Everybody's seen it
Admit that you're wrong
And catch yourself on

Why don't you wise up and start making sense
Don't you realize you can't unfriend yourself

You look but you don't listen (Where do you think you're going)
It's your permanent condition (Where do you think you've been)
Every little interaction
You're distracted by distraction

So catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
It's too late to delete it
Everybody's seen it
Admit that you're wrong
And catch yourself on

Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
It's too late to delete it
Everybody's seen it
Admit that you're wrong
And catch yourself on
Catch yourself on
