

Black Train Jack, Dosen't Matter

Speak now or don't say a word
We could avoid this cold front
You think that you're never heard
Why don't you tell me what you want
Why don't you tell me what you want
Why don't you tell me what you need
You know I'll turn it on
I only aim to please
It seems to me if I just walk away
It just returns to me, in that same old way
Won't you tell me
What you want
Just forget it now
It dosen't matter anymore
