

Blackened, A Jester's Tale Part I

Once upon a time
In a land so far away
A child was born, a son of kings
To claim the throne one day

Defiled and stained
By the betrayer's bloody hand
But some day soon, will his reign of terror end

And I can't bear
To see my people live in fear
Our father's death you will atone
The day of reckoning is near

Oh God of war
I never prayed to you before
But help me this time and I praise your glory evermore
I praise your glory evermore forevermore

Refrain:
Father, father
Hear your son, this I swear
I will avenge their misery
Our people shall be free
Brother, brother
Abstain from evil, or die
To pay for your sins and treachery
No mercy left for thee