

Blackened, Even Angels Fail

I'm starin' at the paper
But I don't know what to write
Live is a river, it passed you by Sometimes angels cannot fly

I'd look at you till I was blind
Beauty leaves the pain behind
Take my hand and if you try
Your wounds will heal as time passes by

Refrain:
Spread your wings and fly away
To the horizons very end
The door is locked but you will find
That you hold the key in hand

Spread your wings and fly away
On everlasting winds you sail
Once you found the truth you'll see
Even Angels Fail

I'm standing outside in the rain
And guilt is calling deep inside
Maybe it was me who made you cry
A little part inside you die

I'd look at you till I was blind
Beauty leaves the pain behind
Take my hand and if you try
Your wound will heal as time passes by

I light a candle it shall burn away the night
May you find peace beyond your pain
So close to heaven I can hear an angel cry
Though the stars spell out her name
