

Blackened, It's Just Me

Awaken from a restless night
So cold the air, so pale the light
I stand hear lost inside a dream-
And only God knows where I've been

And there's no shelter from the rain
No one's there to cure my pain
I leave this dream let my soul fly
When I hear the raven's cry

You made me stumble made me fall
And darkness dwells inside us all
True hope may be in suicide
The way it ends I will decide

Refrain:
It's just me
And the way I say goodbye
With broken wings a fallen angel cannot fly
It's just me
And the way I say goodbye
With broken heart a poet's soul will die

I feel so cold, a coldness from inside
I'm sorry, you know I didn't mean to make you cry
But I hope you understand that this will be our last goodbye
My whole life I was with you, now I'm afraid to be alone
So guide my first steps like I guide yours,
the day you're coming home

And in the darkness sweet embrace
I won't get lost inside a maze
True hope may be in suicide
The way it ends I will decide
