

Blackmail, Me And My Shadow

it started with a haze that's going round this place too dark to see the heathen in my face i am not the same it's shaking me again a colour so divine oh god, you've come to see what your kids have in mind. the devil felt ashamed i never thought he would i saw him keep on practicing until this endless morning ends he's lost the silver spoon he kept it in his hand i think we're leaving soon me and my shadow shaped today we take the whole way to the moon.
