Blackmore's Night, Christmas Eve

Say goodbye to November She must be on her way The cold winds of December Look like they're here to stay Me, I'll just count the snowflakes As they start to fall Getting lost in the beauty The magic of it all

And our eyes filled with wonder, As the reindeer take to flight

*Its Christmas eve Bells will ring Through the town we gather to sing Christmas eve Has begun Peace and love to everyone

Light the festive candles Theyll chase the shadows away Gathering round the yule log With handfuls of holly Winter winds will whisper Through the shivering pines Never have the stars looked brighter than tonight
