

Blackpool Lights, Goodnight To Romance

Goodnight to romance
And hello to waking up
To what is left of your life
Do you think you've had enough
Of what you thought you had
Could it really be that bad X2

This is the rest of your life
So put on a happy face
There is no need to disguise
The years you had to waste
If your friends wouldn't be there then
We all must be dreaming X2

You've been lost and lonely
Was this your one and only
Chance to start again
Tell me how it's gonna end
You've been bruised and broken
When harsh words were spoken
From the outside in

It's easy to see it all clearly
It's easy for you to deny
That all your petty arguments
And all these little incidents were lies

Here's to redemption
You finally found your way
Never mind what all the People have to say
When a road comes to an end
Just start at the beginning X3

You've been lost and lonely
Was this your one and only
Chance to start again
Tell me how it's gonna end
You've been bruised and broken
When harsh words were spoken
From the outside in
So this is how it's gonna end
