

Blackpool Lights, Maybe Just Maybe

All I ever, all I ever
Wanted in this world
Was a place to rest my head
Now that dream is dead
All I ever, all I ever
Needed in this life
Was someone to hear my voice
Not like I had a choice

Well you kick me when I'm down
Now I'm laying on the ground
All because of you
Throw it all away
Just to fight another day
Oh what else could I do
Maybe, just maybe we'll pull on through

All I ever, all I ever
Cared for in this world
Would leave me feeling lost
All that it would cost
All I ever, all I ever
Worked for in this life
Would only bring me pain
Make me go insane

Well you kick me when I'm down
Now I'm laying on the ground
All because of you
Throw it all away just to fight another day
Oh what else could I do
Reading through your lies
I can see it in your eyes
All your words untrue
Oh maybe, just maybe we'll pull on...

Through this
It was something I could not resist
I hope you know
It was always you I missed
The world has a way
Of working out the bugs
It may never make sense
But what ever does

All I ever, all I ever
Needed in this life
Was someone to hear my voice
Not like I had a choice
