

Blame It On Rio, Still I Am Nothing

When it comes down to this, I won't let go
Still I am nothing in your eyes, should it be such a big surprise?
Did you know that I will tell the truth
That everytime you ask me, I'll run from you
Still I am nothing in your eyes, should it be such a big surprise?
Just let go
Even though you said you won't say a word

Would you call out to save yourself?
You're on the brink of death but I've told you
That I cannot save you
Would you call out to save yourself?
To save yourself tonight

'Cause I am full of fear, that you've left my side
Still I am nothing in your eyes, should it be such a big surprise?
For one last time
That I will know the way when I'm not quite sure you're there
You want me there
Still I am nothing in your eyes, should it be such a big surprise this time?
Even though you said you won't say a word

Would you call out to save yourself?
You're on the brink of death but I've told you
That I cannot save you
Would you call out to save yourself?
To save yourself tonight
To save yourself..

(To save yourself...)
Would you call out to save yourself?
You're on the brink of death but I've told you
That I cannot save you
Would you call out to save yourself?
To save yourself tonight
To save yourself

Would you call out to save yourself?
You're on the brink of death but I've told you
That I cannot save you
Would you call out to save yourself?
To save yourself tonight
To save yourself
