

Blame It On Rio, What I Meant To Say

It's safe to say that I'm not sure what to say we talked an hour it's only been one day and you said to me I will be someone said to me I will be your one said to me that I could be your one tonight

Just help me by meeting me in the middle
I wont go on tonight with my redundant riddles.
I write this late at night and I'm dreaming of you and I, just and I all the way.

But will things change? When will they change?
And I'm not one for timing and I'm no good at lying
But I'm quite sure I'm dying with everyday that we're apart.

All these lies, just tell the truth.
Don't run away, I want you.
Everything you say to me, I'll listen and absorb.
Everything you do to me, I'll give back and more.
I want to love you as my only one.
Why do you choose to break my heart?

The next time I see you ill make the wrongs right.
The next time I see you will we make it through the night.

Just help me by meeting me in the middle
I wont go on tonight with my redundant riddles.
I write this late at night and I'm dreaming of you and I, just and I all alone....
