

Blank & Jones, Miracle Cure

It was early morning
And I didn't feel great
But the sun was shining
At a quarter to eight
So I got up very slowly
And there by the door
Stood an angel, holy,
I fell to the floor

Am I right?
Is she near me?
Tell me what it takes to hear me
I can't cry anymore
You're my miracle cure

And then one day later
I started to shave
But in the mirror met a stranger
Who I did not know
And he asked me to go with him
I wait from the line
But I knew I couldn't give in
So I started to fight

Am I right?
Is she near me?
Tell me what it takes to hear me
I can't cry anymore
You're my miracle cure (x2)

What can I do?
Where I can I hide?
Who can I back?
Who's gonna lie?
Who can I trust?
Who's gonna try?
Who's gonna stay with me tonight?
Who's gonna stay in by my side and when I'm feeling paranoid?
Who's gonna fill this empty void?

Am I right?
Is she near me?
Tell me what it takes to hear my story
Don't cry anymore 'cause it's you that I adore
I said don't cry anymore 'cause it's you that holds the cure