for you to open up your eyes, and ask you what you are waiting for.

chorus: You've got to get him out of your head, 'cause your so much better.

You've got every guy wishing they were him so they could get next to you.

You've got to get him out of your head, 'cause your so much better.

You've got every guy wishing they were him so they could get next to you.

You say to him make up your mind, you can't wait forever, forever

Everyone prays you'll grow a brain, to see he's going to leave you again.

I know its hard to start from scratch, but don't settle for second best.
