

Blatz, Lullaby

sleep little one sleep, take comfort in the nights embrace
'cause the morning sun will open your eyes and youll see that you live in a f**ked up place.
sleep little one sleep, take comfort in any kind of embrace 'cause the morning suns gonna open your eyes 'cause you live in a f**ked up place.
baby i was like you once i slept in a crib with yellow sheets.
now the sand in my eyes and the dirt on my feet and the sand in my mouth and everyone just dreams of themselves anyway.
no you never asked no one for life but here you are in somebody elses world and theyll say that the change can come from you but it shouldve come long ago and how can things change all of our dreams are unfurled?
the stars in your eyes are just shattered glass and the dolls on the shelf became the men in the gutter and everyone just dreams of somebody else.
baby ill never sleep that way again until i die!
